My name is Ethan and I am currently a freshman at CCSF, later aspiring to work in an animation studio. I enrolled in VMD 105 in order to learn basic adobe skills in order to create animations and illustrations. Unfortunately, I do not have an eye for graphic design, but with the courses resources, I hope to ready myself for any challenges I face. The Post cards hear are projects done in VMD 105, using adobe Photoshop, Illustrator, Animate, and InDesign. Enjoy!

When thinking of a concept for the Raster Project, I was trying to convey irony and and a bit of wittiness with the play on words. I enjoyed the process and felt like I mastered the basics of photoshop but being artistically challenged, it was hard to figure out what colors would help the subjects blend in to its environment. Anywho, I thought it was a fantastic project where I could express my whimsical side.

When thinking of what job I would take in the animation industry, I initialy thought character design, which is what made this project very fun for me. Since the character should be based off of the photoshop project, I thought of using the octopus and making him a fisherman instead. He would be old and grumpy, but very relaxed and peaceful. This project was very useful to me becuase I've learned so many shortcuts when it comes to creating designs, saving time and not having to redue steps.

Being that animation is what I want to do, I had the most fun doing this. It really makes you appreciate how much work goes in to two seconds and how wonderful it is to not have to do frame by frame. I worked the most diligently on this assignment, puting in the most hours, trying to make it look as smooth as possible (according to what I know). Therefore, I was the most proud of this project than all the rest!
